Work-Life-Service

We know that every phase in life has its special challenges and that we need a clear head to stay healthy and productive at work. For this reason, we work closely with employees and managers to help them organise the interaction between work, family and private life as successfully as possible.

Our experts counsel on the following topics:

■ Phases of work-related change

E.g. starting a career (apprenticeships), returning to work after parental leave, reconciling career and private life, being in the middle of your career, preparing for retirement

■ Care and provisions

E.g. reconciling work and care commitments, care and family care, authorisations and directives, financing the care needs, care possibilities

■ Children, family and parenthood

E.g. parental leave, parental allowances, returning to work, reconciling work and family life, being a single parent, issues on school, education and career choices

■ Family care

E.g. counselling on the conditions to be met, application and financing

■ Referrals to child and care services and institutions

E.g. individuals and quality-checked service providers
